

Mountaineering

Pete Schoening Collection – Part 1

We are most pleased to offer a number of items from the collection of American mountaineer Pete Schoening (1927-2004). Pete is best remembered in mountaineering circles for performing 'The Belay' during the dramatic descent of K2 by the Third American Karakoram Expedition in 1953. Pete's heroics saved six men. However, Pete had many other mountain adventures, before and after K2, including: numerous climbs with Fred Beckey (1948-49), Mount Saugstad (1st ascent, 1951), Mount Augusta (1st ascent) and King Peak (2nd & 3rd ascents, 1952), Gasherburm I/Hidden Peak (1st ascent, 1958), McKinley (1960), Mount Vinson (1st ascent, 1966), Pamirs (1974), Aconcagua (1995), Kilimanjaro (1995), Everest (1996), not to mention countless climbs in the Pacific Northwest. All items have Pete's circular 'Ex Libris Pete Schoening' bookplate.

Blum, Arlene. Annapurna: A Woman's Place. 1980 Sierra Club, SF, 1st, 8vo, pp.xii, 256, 12 color & 110 bw photos, 3 maps, black/grey cloth; bookplate Ex Libris Pete Schoening, dj rubbed, tear top of spine, vg-, cloth vg. #9516, $29.- Story of 1978 first women's ascent of an 8000er and the first US ascent of Annapurna. This is one of National Geographic Adventure Magazine's 100 top adventure books of all time. Neate B117, Yak B191.

Bonatti, Walter. On The Heights. 1964 Rupert Hart-Davis, London, 1st, 8vo, pp.248, 19 bw photos, brown cloth; bookplate Ex Libris Pete Schoening, dj rubbed, unclipped, vg, cloth fine. #26317, $295.- Bonatti's climbs have taken him all over the world. In this book he gives his account of the 1954 Italian K2 expedition, his first ascent of Gasherbrum IV in 1958, as well as Patagonia, and climbs throughout the Alps. Neate B126, Perret 541, Yak B208.

Boukreev, Anatoli & G. Weston DeWalt. The Climb: Tragic Ambitions on Everest. 1998 US, rep, 8vo, pp.xvi, 297, 13 bw photos, 2 maps, sketch, chart, wraps; bookplate Ex Libris Pete Schoening, name, vg. #13720, $9.- This is Anatoli Boukreev's dramatic personal account of his role on Scott Fischer's Mountain Madness team and the 1996 Everest disaster. He presents his perspective and sheds new light on the events and his account of the pre-expedition maneuvering for clients, permits, and oxygen makes fascinating reading. He also includes an account of his 1997 Everest ascent as a 'consultant' with an Indonesian expedition. Boukreev was killed while attempting Annapurna in December 1997. This is an important association copy as Pete was a member of Scott Fischer's team.

Davidson, Art. Minus 148: The Winter Ascent of Mt. McKinley. 1986 Cloudcap, Seattle, rep, enlarged ed, 8vo, pp.242, 24 bw photos, wraps; bookplate Ex Libris Pete Schoening, vg. #23450, $12.- *This account of the first winter ascent of McKinley, in 1967, is an epic of death, failure, perseverance, and survival. The history of mountaineering has long served as a metaphor for civilization triumphant. Once upon a time, the Alps were an inaccessible habitat of specters and dragons, until heroic men — pioneers of enlightenment — scaled their summits, classified their strata and flora, and banished the phantoms forever. A fascinating interdisciplinary study of the first ascents of the major Alpine peaks and Mount Everest, 'The Summits of Modern Man' surveys the far-ranging significance of our encounters with the world's most alluring and forbidding heights.

Our obsession with "who got to the top first" may have begun in 1786, the year Jacques Balmat and Michel-Gabriel Paccard climbed Mont Blanc and inaugurated an era in which Romantic notions of the sublime spurred climbers' aspirations. In the following decades, climbing lost its revolutionary cachet as it became associated instead with bourgeois outdoor leisure. Still, the mythic stories of mountaineers, threaded through with themes of imperialism, masculinity, and ascendant Western science and culture, seized the imagination of artists and historians well into the twentieth century, providing grist for stage shows, poetry, films, and landscape paintings.

Today, we live on the threshold of a hot planet, where melting glaciers and rising sea levels create ambivalence about the conquest of nature. Long after Hillary and Tenzing's ascent of Everest, though, the image of modern man supreme on the mountaintop retains its currency. Hansen's exploration of these persistent images indicates how difficult it is to imagine our relationship with nature in terms other than domination.

When it came to climbing the highest summits of the world, Austrian climbers were at the forefront from the beginning. After the World War II they made five first ascents of 8000m peaks, more than any other nation, - Nanga Parbat, Cho Oyu, Gasherbrun II, Broad Peak and Dhaulagiri. Hermann Buhl became the first person to make first ascents of two of the world's highest mountains. Austrians were also among the leading new pioneers of the 1970s and 1980s: Peter Habeler set two milestones of high-altitude climbing with the first alpine-style ascent of an 8000er and the first ascent of Everest without supplementary oxygen. Even today, Austrian alpinists leave their marks on the highest peaks; as shown by Gerlinde Kaltenbrunner who, in 2011, became the first woman to climb all fourteen 8000ers without bottled oxygen. In 28 stories Hemmleb paints a comprehensive and multi-faceted picture of Austrian accomplishments on all 14 of the world's highest mountains through compelling stories, insightful portraits and personal interviews. Includes a table of all Austrian summitteers of 8000-metre peaks compiled by renowned mountaineering statistician Eberhard Jurgalski. In German, no English translation.

Hoyland has a close association with Everest. He climbed the mountain in 1993 and is the grandnephew of Howard Somervell, who loaned his camera to George Mallory for his summit day. Hoyland was a member of the 1999 Mallory & Irvine Research Expedition and returned in the fall of 2001 to look further for clues relating to Mallory and Irvine. Here is the most detailed reconstruction of what happened after the two English climbing legends left the camp on that fateful day. Combining personal experience, the physical evidence found on the mountain and an insight into the hearts and minds of the two climbers, Hoyland produces the most compelling description of what actually happened on that day and the answer to that most intriguing of questions - did they actually climb Everest?

One of the Rarest Himalayan Accounts

Jacot-Guillarmod, Jules. Six Mois dans l'Himalaya, le Karakorum et l'Hindu-Kush: Voyages et Explorations aux Plus Hautes Montagnes du Monde [Six Months in the l'Himalaya, the Karakorum and the Hindu-Kush: Voyages and Explorations to the Highest Mountains of the World]. 1904 W Sandoz, Neuchâtel, 1st, 8vo, pp.363, 10 bw inset plates, 1 fldg bw panorama, 269 bw photos, temp chart, 3 maps (1 color, 2 fldg), appendices, gilt lettered spine w/ floral dec, ¼ brown leather & marbled boards; boards lightly rubbed, new eps, facs front/rear wrapper covers, maps w/ no tears, near fine.

#26313, $1595.-

Jacot-Guillarmod, a Swiss physician, mountaineer and photographer, served as the expedition doctor on the Eckenstein-Crowley expedition to K2 in 1902. This was the first serious attempt to climb K2 and reached a height of approximately 6,525m. Jacot-Guillarmod's scarce account is marvelously written and accompanied by over 260 photos taken during the expedition. It was during this expedition that Jacot-Guillarmod, using a "Verascope Richard" stereo camera, took the first photograph of K2. (See our #25930 for a limited edition print of this image.) Jacot-Guillarmod is renowned for two pioneering expeditions to the Himalaya; this one to K2 (8,611m) in 1902 and another to Kangchenjunga (8,586m) in 1905. On both he was accompanied by the legendary Aleister Crowley who was a climber of some repute. This book was initially printed with paper wrappers. Most surviving copies have been rebound, as is this copy, although the original wrapper covers may not have been retained. This copy has facsimiles of these original wrappers. This is a classic of early Karakoram climbing and one of the rarest of published accounts. In French, no English translation.

In the 50 years since the Italian ascent of K2, Lino Lacedelli has never released a statement regarding the summit climb he made with Achille Compagnoni, an event which was celebrated in Italy with great pride. However, when the team, led by Ardito Desio, returned home a terrible accusation was leveled at them. One of the members, Walter Bonatti, said the two summit climbers had put his life in danger by abandoning him before the final stretch so they could reach the top without him. The official version of the climb, written by Desio and confirmed by all other members of the expedition, said that hadn't happened, that Bonatti's accusations were unfounded, the result of a misunderstanding. Lacedelli has never felt the necessity to correct the inaccuracies written about the expedition, nor has he replied to the accusations that have often been made. Now Lacedelli reveals previously unknown aspects of that extraordinary climb and offers his own view of the Bonatti affair, an affair which has accounted for many pages in books and newspapers over the last fifty years, as well as keeping the courts busy. Bonatti and the Hunza porter Mahdi risked their lives to carry oxygen bottles which Lacedelli and Compagnoni needed the next day for the final ascent. When, as evening approached, they could not find the summit pair's tent in the previously agreed place, Bonatti and Mahdi were forced to spend a terrible night above 8000 metres, with neither adequate shelter nor equipment. Why was Camp IX moved? Why did the oxygen run out before the summit was reached? Why was Bonatti subsequently accused of having secretly conspired against his colleagues? To these and other questions Lacedelli responds with authority, throwing new light on the story of an expedition which has become a defining moment in post-war Italian history. He reveals his own terrible version of the truth: in the night before the summit attempt, he and Compagnoni deliberately failed to make their rendezvous with Bonatti, forcing him to abandon the final ascent so they could have the oxygen tanks he carried with him. The book succeeds in restoring to its place in the history of Italian mountaineering an expedition whose story has more often seemed to read like a cheap thriller than one of adventure and discovery. It uncovers personalities previously confined to the shadows, forgotten and erased incidents, and the intense emotions which accompany all difficult challenges. This is a story of courage and ambition, of glory and guilt, of more than 50 years of hiding the truth that became Lino Lacedelli's 'Price of Conquest'. This English translation has many more photos than the original Italian edition. This UK hardcover edition is a much nicer copy than the US softcover edition which is slightly smaller due to being a different binding. This is one of only 472 hardcover copies printed!

Aconcagua is the highest mountain in the Americas and the tallest in the world outside the Himalayas. Located in the Andes mountains of Argentina, near the city of Mendoza, Aconcagua has been luring European mountain climbers since 1883, when a German geologist nearly reached the mountain's summit. (A Swiss climber finally made the ascent in 1897.) In this fascinating book, Logan explores the many impacts of mountaineering's "discovery" of Aconcagua including its effect on how local indigenous history is understood. The consequences still resonate today, as the region has become a magnet for "adventure travelers," with about 7,000 climbers and trekkers from all over the world visiting each year.

Having done fieldwork on Aconcagua for six years, Logan offers keen insights into how the invention of mountaineering in the nineteenth century - and adventure tourism a century later - have both shaped and been shaped by local and global cultural narratives. She examines the roles and functions of mountain guides, especially in regard to notions of gender and nation; re-reads the mountaineering stories forged by explorers, scientists, tourism officials, and the gear industry; and considers the distinctions between foreign and Argentine climbers (some of whom are celebrities in their own right).

In Logan's revealing analysis, Aconcagua is emblematic of the tensions produced by modernity, nation-building, tourism development, and re-ethnification. The evolution of mountain climbing on Aconcagua registers seismic shifts in attitudes toward adventure, the national, and the global. With an eye for detail and a flair for description, Logan invites her readers onto the mountain and into the lives it supports.

Sixty years after Everest was first climbed, this unique book of letters celebrates, in a very personal way, this most majestic of mountains. With exclusive access to the private archives of pioneering New Zealand climber George Lowe, this is a welcome tribute to an unsung hero. The ascent of Everest in the summer of 1953 was one of the 20th century's great triumphs of exploration. Lowe's efforts on the mountain were crucial to the endeavour. He was one of the lead climbers, forging the route up the Lhotse Face without oxygen and later cutting steps for his partners up the summit ridge. In this touching book, a trove of unpublished letters from the Lowe collection are brought together for the first time, to describe the day-by-day moments of this historic expedition as never before. As often as he could, Lowe wrote letters home to his family. In turn, they could then keep their friends updated with news, frequently before the local newspapers had full accounts of the climb. These rare letters from Everest now allow us to travel back in time to join Lowe and his companions every step of the way: a vivid, behind-the-scenes witness of a climb that would make history.

This Limited Edition has a number of features which sets it apart from the Trade Edition. Only 60 copies were produced; due to both the 60th anniversary of the ascent as well as the limited amount of sleeping bag material available. These swatches are affixed to an additional page which features an extra, tipped-in, photo of Lowe taken by Ed Hillary at Base Camp. The book is signed by editor Huw Lewis-Jones and contributors Jan Morris and Peter Hillary on an acetate sheet. The endpaper illustration is by Julian Heaton Cooper, the son of William Heaton Cooper who designed the dust jacket for John Hunt's 'The Ascent of Everest'. This is an important addition to the first ascent literature.

Sixty years after the first ascent by Hillary and Norgay, this anniversary book celebrates the most majestic of mountains, with exclusive access to the outstanding imagery and private archives of George Lowe, a key climber and photographer on the expedition. It's hard to believe there could be new photos to see from this expedition but this book features many unpublished photographs – and other rare materials from the Lowe collection – stunning landscapes, candid portraits and action shots of this historic expedition, bringing a fresh immediacy to the event. An impressive team of experts provide their own reflections and experiences of Everest, and write in tribute to an unsung hero, with contributions from Sir Edmund Hillary, Sir Chris Bonington, Kenton Cool, Peter Hillary, Tom Hornbein, Reinhold Messner, Colin Montgomerie, Jan Morris, Norbu Tenzing Norgay, Doug Scott and Stephen Venables. For all who wonder what Everest must be like, and for mountaineers, climbers, outdoor enthusiasts and armchair adventurers, this book conveys the joy and the challenge of this incomparable mountain. This book weighs 3.25 pounds. Winner 2013 Banff Mountain Book Festival James Monroe Thornton Award for Best Work of Mountaineering History and Finalist in the Mountain Image category.

Professor Augusto Gansser, who died in 2012 aged 101, was a Swiss geologist, researcher and adventurer whose explorations led to new insights about the origins of the great mountain ranges. Early on in his life this modest man began to document his work and life in words, sketches and photographs. His first diary dates back to 1929, the beginning of his career as a geologist. 80 years later, the stock of his diaries and field notebooks is impressive. There is an immense wealth of photos, sketches and field reports in this lavish book. Gansser's expeditions include Eastern Greenland (1934), Mt. Kailas (1936), Colombia (1938-46), Trinidad (1947-49), Persia (1950-57), and Bhutan (1963-77). Ursula Markus accompanied her father Augusto Gansser on many trips. As editor she researched the immense image material for the book, and with the well-known journalist Ursula Eichenberger the eventful life of Gansser is described.

Take a front seat ride and experience what it takes to make a first ascent on one of the world's biggest alpine faces in 2011. The film joins top British alpinists Jon Bracey and Matt Helliker as they honor their late friend Jules Cartwright by following his original vision of making a stunning and formidable new line on Mt. Hunter's incredible north buttress; The Moonflower.

Climbing the steepest and coldest section of the buttress; marvel at the dogged determination of the world class climbers as they approach exhaustion in an effort to complete the line before the increasingly freezing conditions irrevocably turn against them. The fruits of their efforts result in 'The Cartwright Connection' c6000ft, Alaskan grade 6 (M6, A16, 5.8, A2).

The adventure is filmed by the climbers themselves giving a unique insight into cutting edge alpinism. Adventure cameraman David Reeves contributes to the cinematic experience with his stunning mountain time lapses and aerial footage. The film is produced by award winner Al Lee and conveys every frightening, grueling and hilarious moment combined with the poignant beauty of the Alaskan wilderness.

In preparation for this elegantly rendered farewell, award-winning photographer and writer Tim Palmer spent the spring, summer, and autumn of 2010 among California's last glaciers. He climbed and slept in a world of creaking ice and snow, a world sharp with light and cold, photographing the remnants of the mighty forces that for millennia have shaped our mountains and valleys and replenished our lakes, rivers, and streams. Through Palmer's words and photographs, we encounter both the raw power and beauty of these luminous icescapes and the irreversible effects of climate change. This is an elegiac tribute to a fading terrain we should never forget.

Using previously unpublished original material (notebooks, correspondence, etc) Perrin tells the story of the greatest exploring partnership in British history. In the 1930s Tilman and the younger Shipton pioneered many routes in Africa and the Himalaya and found the key to unlocking Everest. They crossed Africa by bicycle, explored China with Michael Spender and John Auden, journeyed down the Oxus River to its source and, with no support, opened up much of the Nepalese Himalaya. In the words of Perrin, 'The journeys of discovery undertaken through two decades by this pair of venturesome ragamuffins are unparalleled in the annals of mountain exploration.' This is the third part of Perrin's biographical mountain trilogy consisting of 'Menlove' (1985) and

Putnam, William, et al. The Year of the Mountains Commemorative Calendar 2002. 13" wide x 22½" high when opened, 21 bw images, 12 months; new. #26385, $9.-

Why would you want a calendar from 2002? Because it actually has the correct days and dates for 2013! However, what really makes this calendar unique is the wealth of information related to mountaineering history for every day; most dates list two historic events. This also features historic black and white photos by Abraham, Brooks, Donkin, Sella, van Rensselaer, Wilcox, and others. Also includes an index to the noted events.

Reed, Tom. Moved by a Mountain: Inspirations from an Alpine View in Alaska. 2013 US, 1st, oblong 8vo, pp.42, photo frontis, 13 color & 29 bw photos, wraps; signed, new. #26339, $21.95

Tom Reed's second book of alpine images is as pleasingly presented as his first. The beautiful images presented here are all from his alpine cabin in Alaska. In the first half of the book he describes finding the land on which to build, building his cabin, and explores the question - "How and why are humans inspired by mountain views?" The second half is filled with images and includes many profound quotes on the subject. This is a thought-provoking, and aesthetically-arresting book with full page photos throughout.

Rideout, Tanis. Above All Things. 2013 US, 1st, 8vo, pp.387, blue/green cloth; dj & cloth new. #26442, $26.95

Rideout's debut novel of obsession and divided loyalties weaves together the harrowing story of George Mallory's ill-fated 1924 attempt to be the first man to conquer Everest with that of a single day in the life of his wife as she waits at home in England for news of his return. A captivating blend of historical fact and imaginative fiction, 'Above All Things' moves seamlessly back and forth between the epic story of Mallory's legendary final expedition and a heartbreaking account of a day in the life of Ruth Mallory. Through George's perspective, and that of the newest member of the climbing team, Sandy Irvine, we get an astonishing picture of the terrible risks taken by the men on the treacherous terrain of the Himalaya. But it is through Ruth's eyes that a complex portrait of a marriage emerges, one forged on the eve of the First World War, shadowed by its losses, and haunted by the ever-present possibility that George might not come home. Drawing on years of research, this powerful and beautifully written novel is a timeless story of desire, redemption, and the lengths we are willing to go for honour, glory, and love.

the vast resources of the RGS, this represents one of the largest assemblage of images relating to the 1953 expedition ever published together. This book weighs 5.25 pounds.

Samet, Matt. Death Grip: A Climber's Escape from Benzo Madness. 2013 US, 1st, 8vo, pp.302, appendices, red cloth; dj & cloth new. #26358, $25.99
Samet, a former writer at both 'Rock and Ice' and 'Climbing' magazines, chronicles his near-fatal struggle with anxiety and depression, and his nightmarish journey through the dangerous world of prescription drugs. Samet lived to climb, and craved the challenge, risk, and exhilaration of conquering sheer rock faces around the United States and internationally. But Samet's depression, compounded by the extreme diet and fitness practices of climbers, led him to seek professional help. He entered the murky, inescapable world of psychiatric medicine, where he developed a dangerous addiction to prescribed medications - primarily 'benzos,' or benzodiazepines - that landed him in institutions and nearly killed him.

With dramatic storytelling, persuasive research data, and searing honesty, Samet reveals the hidden epidemic of benzo addiction, which some have suggested can be harder to quit than heroin. Millions of adults and teenagers are prescribed these drugs, but few understand how addictive they are - and how dangerous long-term usage can be, even when prescribed by doctors.

After a difficult struggle with addiction, Samet slowly makes his way to a life in recovery through perseverance and a deep love of rock climbing. Conveying both the exhilaration of climbing in the wilderness and the utter madness of addiction, Death Grip is a powerful and revelatory memoir.

Schmuck, Marcus. Broad Peak 8047m: Meine Bergfahrten mit Hermann Buhl [Broad Peak 8047m: My Ascents with Hermann Buhl]. 1958 Bergland Buch, Salzburg, 1st, 8vo, pp.365, photo frontis, 9 color (3 fldg) & 49 bw (4 fldg) photos, 3 maps, map ep, tan cloth; signed Schmuck, Fritz Wintersteller, & Kurt Diemberger Please compare with the authentic report in my "Summits and Secrets", cloth bright, fine. #23601, $895.-

The first ascent of Broad Peak! This is the official account of the first ascent of Broad Peak by Schmuck, Hermann Buhl, Kurt Diemberger, and Fritz Wintersteller in 1957. This is one of the most sought after 8000m first ascent books and is quite scarce in any condition. This is a particularly nice copy. A cornerstone book for any Himalayan library. In German, no English translation.

A magnificent presentation of photos by the outstanding mountain photographer Vittorio Sella. Included here are images from his expeditions to the Caucasus (1889, '90, '96), St. Elias (1897), Kangchenjunga (1899), Ruwenzori (1906), and Karakoram (1909). This copy also includes the scarce separate folder of three panoramas. These are each 4.5' long and depict the Caucasus, Kangchenjunga, and Karakoram. A nice set of this scarce item. This weighs almost 4 pounds. In Italian, no English translation.

Sherwonit's collection of stories includes stories of St. Elias, Blackburn, Fairweather, Devils Thumb, Denali, Hunter, Foraker, Huntington, Kichatna Spires, Moose's Tooth, Doonerak, and Arrigetch by such noted authors as Filippi, Sherman, Krakauer, Washburn, Stuck, Cassin, Davidson, Kennedy, Beckey, Waterman, Roberts, Robbins, Bridwell, and others. A good read about fascinating climbs!

Shipton, Eric. Blank on the Map Prospectus. [1938] Hodder & Stoughton, London, 8vo, pp.1, 1 bw illus, wraps; fine. #26457, $29.-

The original prospectus for Shipton's book 'Blank on the Map'. This double-sided prospectus describes Shipton's book together with an order form. A nice piece of ephemera to go with this classic book.

Singh, Brigadier Gyan. Lure of Everest: Story of the First Indian Expedition.

1961 Ministry Info & Broadcasting, Delhi, 1st, 8vo, pp.xi, 212, color frontis, 64 bw photos, 3 maps, sketches, page-ribbon, appendices, map eps, rebound blue leather spine & marbled boards; inscribed by Singh March 1961, cloth rubbed, corners bent, vg. #26297, $195.-

Singh was Principal of the Himalayan Mountaineering Institute in Darjeeling when he led this first all-Indian attempt on Everest in 1960. Although unsuccessful they did reach 8,625 metres. Signed copies are quite scarce. Neate S77, SB S35, Yak S246.

— another copy. 1989 Ministry of Information & Broadcasting, Delhi, rev ed, 8vo, pp.xiii, 156, 24 bw photos, illus, maps, wraps; signed Nawang Gombu & Narinder Kumar, rubbed, vg. #19542, $95.-

This revised edition contains appendices detailing subsequent attempts and ascents up through 1984. Gombu was a member of the 1960 Indian attempt, reached the summit with the 1963 American expedition, and in 1965 reached the summit again with the third Indian expedition, thus becoming the first person to reach the summit twice. Kumar was also a member of the 1960 attempt and deputy leader of the successful 1965 expedition. Neate S77, SB S35, Yak S246.

Skinner uses climbing as a metaphor for business challenges. Part inspiration, part business advice, and part heart-stopping adventure, he tells the story of climbing Trango Tower's East Face in 1995. This was the first Grade 7 free climb in the world. Tragically, Skinner was killed in 2008 in a fall when his worn harness let go while rappelling off a new route on Yosemite's Leaning Tower.

Smythe, Frank. Camp Six Prospectus. [1937] Hodder & Stoughton, London, 8vo, pp.4, wraps; horizontal fold, as new. #26223, $39.-

The original prospectus for Smythe's book 'Camp Six'. This 4-page prospectus describes Smythe's book in detail with a quote from the final chapter. The last page includes an order form for the book. A nice piece of ephemera to go with this classic book.

Somervell, T. Howard. After Everest: The Experiences of a Mountaineer and Medical Missionary. 1936 Hodder & Stoughton, London, 1st, 8vo, pp.xiii, 339, photo frontis w/ tissue guard, 21 bw illus, fldg map, appendix, grey cloth; cloth spine lightly faded, bookplate of Bill Hackett, near fine. #22495, $79.-

Somervell was the doctor on the 1922 and 1924 British Everest expeditions, climbed in the Kangchenjunga region after leaving Everest in 1922 and again in 1928, attempted to reach Nanda Devi in 1926 (eight years before Shipton and Tilman's exploration), and was president of the Alpine Club. *The epic true account of a near-death experience on a mountain in Norway in 1969. In the summer of 1969, two teenage twin brothers, with only three years' mountaineering experience, set off to climb one of the highest rock faces in Europe. With just two bars of chocolate, some sandwiches, a four-sentence route description and an old sketch map, they left their tent early one morning with the full expectation of being back in time for tea. Within a few hours things had gone badly wrong, they were looking death in the face, and the English Home Counties seemed very far away. The Alpine Fourthousanders are 52 magnificent mountains that make up one of the mountaineering world's major tick-list challenges. Swindin, who describes herself as an 'ordinary climber', is a former President of the Gloucestershire Mountaineering Club and Member of the Alpine Club. She describes, with verve and honesty, her attempts to reach the summits, her triumphs and shortfalls, and her slowly dawning awareness that she just might become the first British woman to climb them all. But, although the goal was a heady one, still more important is her enduring delight in the mountain environment. Alongside Barbara's own exploits on foot and ski are insights into the 'pettecoat pioneers', women who dared to tackle alpine routes at a time when alpinism was strictly the preserve of men. She also looks at the progress that has been made by women since.

Barbara grew up in 1950s Gloucestershire (where, as she points out, nothing exceeds 350m above sea-level) and has never regarded herself as a natural sportswoman. Nevertheless, she is a member of the Alpine Club who succeeded in climbing the Alpine Fourthousanders – all but one.

Drawing upon previously unseen diaries and letters, rare archive material and interviews, Tuckey tells the remarkable story of Griffith Pugh, the forgotten *team member whose scientific breakthroughs ensured the world's highest mountain could be climbed. A doctor and physiologist, Pugh revolutionised almost every aspect of British high-altitude mountaineering, transforming the climbers' attitude to oxygen, the clothes they wore, their equipment, fluid intake and acclimatisation. Yet, far from receiving the acclaim he was due, he was met with suspicion and ridicule. His scientific contributions were, quite simply, at odds with old-fashioned notions of derring-do and the gentlemanly amateurism that dogged the sport. This insightful biography shows Pugh to be troubled, abrasive, yet brilliant. Eight years in the writing, closely researched, and told with unflinching honesty by Pugh's daughter, Harriet Tuckey, this is the compelling portrait of an unlikely hero. With extensive notes and bibliography. One of 18 books longlisted for the UK's prestigious 2013 Samuel Johnson Prize for Non-Fiction. Mummery is perhaps best known for his ill-fated attempt on Nanga Parbat in 1895, the first recorded attempt on the summit of an 8000er. However, he was also an initial proponent of guideless climbing and inventor of the Mummery tent. He was friends with William Slingsby, J. Norman Colлие, and the Duke of Abruzzi. Hermann Buhl regarded Mummery as 'one of the greatest mountaineers of all time'.

Venables has now written a full autobiography which explores how and – more importantly – why he became a mountaineer. Starting from childhood, he describes many previously unpublished adventures, including early alpine climbs, winter Scottish journeys, Afghanistan before the Russian invasion, the North Face of the Eiger and a fantastic journey through the heart of the Karakoram mountains, following in the steps of Eric Shipton and Bill Tilman. At the book's climax Stephen revisits his dramatic success without oxygen on the Kangshung Face of Everest, described by Reinhold Messner as the most adventurous in Everest's history and by John Hunt as 'one of the most remarkable ordeals from which men or women have returned alive'. Shortlisted for the 2007 Boardman-Tasker Award.

1965 First Day Cover Indian Mount Everest Expedition. signed Reinhold Messner, fine. #18915, $35.-
This cover commemorates the first Indian ascent of Everest which came after two previous attempts. This is an early Messner signature with his full first name.

1972 Postcard Erste Europäische Everest Expedition. signed 15 members – Karl Herrligkoffer (leader), Michel Anderl, Hans Berger, Leo Breitenberger, Werner Haim, Alice von Holb, Adolf Huber, Fritz Kuen, Sepp Maag, Peter Perner, Adolf Sager, Mischa Saleki, Horst Schneider, Doug Scott, & Don Whillans, fine. #22373, $175.-
Another of Herrligkoffer's cards and this one from an important expedition. This international group ended up with much internal strife and ultimately failed in its attempt to be the first to ascend the South-West Face. In addition to Doug Scott and Don Whillans, who both signed this card, the British contingent also included Hamish MacInnes..

1975 Kurt Diemberger Summits and Secrets Lecture Card/Ticket. Ob-long (8.5" x 3") folded card; signed, fine. #26272, $25.-
A nice printed lecture ticket with Nepalese script on the front, lecture information (April 16, 1975) printed on the inside, and signed by Kurt on the back.

1975 FDC International Women's Year. signed Junko Tabei, fine. #18389, $39.-
In 1975 Tabei became the first woman to reach the summit of Everest. Other notable ascents by her were Annapurna III, Shishapangma, Peak Communism, and the five major continental high points.

1975 Postcard American K2 Expedition. signed 10 members – Jim Whittaker (leader), Fred Dunham, Steve Marts, Leif Patterson, Diane Roberts, Galen Rowell, Rob Schaller, Fred Stanley, Lou Whittaker, & Jim Wickwire, fine. #22384, $175.-
This expedition reestablished an American tradition with K2. Their attempt on the Northwest Ridge was thwarted but only until a return in 1978. This card is signed by all 10 members. Scarce.

1978 Postcard First Day of Issue 25th Anniversary Everest Stamp. signed Tenzing Norgay, fine. #26043, $195.-
A commemorative card for the German Archiv für Himalaya Forschungen featuring the 25th anniversary Everest stamp.

1978 Souvenir FDC 25th Anniv First Ascent of Everest, Nepal. signed Hillary, fine. #26044, $29.-
A fine souvenir first day cover to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the British expedition which made the first ascent of Everest.

1978 FDI 25th Anniversary of the First Ascent of Mt. Everest Presentation Folder. 4" x 6.75"; signed Tenzing, fine. #22418, $195.-
A presentation folder for the first day of issue of two stamps commemorating the first ascent of Everest. Text in Nepalese and English.

1978 Cover Ascent of Everest 25th Anniversary Manchester. signed Norman Dyhrenfurth, fine. #26417, $59.-
A plain, white cover postmarked to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the first ascent of Everest. This is an identical cover to that below.

— another copy. signed John Hunt, fine. #26176, $59.-

- 1978 Souvenir Cover International Makalu Expedition. 1 of 1000, signed 2 members - Hermann Warth (leader) & Kurt Diemberger, fine. #18593, $39.-
This international Austrian-German-Nepalese expedition placed seven members on the summit of Makalu, including Warth and Diemberger. Diemberger's signature is desirable as he is one of only two people to make the first ascent of two 8000m peaks - Broad Peak, with Hermann Buhl, and Dhaulagiri.
- 1978-79 Sportscover Mountain Climbing Card Set. Italy, 17 oversize cards; fine. #26363, $19.-
A nice set of cards depicting various aspects and personalities of mountaineering with descriptions on the back. Subjects include Annapurna, Walter Bonatti, Walter Cecchinell, Everest, French Alpine Club, Dougal Haston, Maurice Herzog, History of Mt. Blanc, Roping Down, Rucksacks, Sherpas, Lionel Terray, and more. I believe this to be a complete set.
- another set. Italy, 15 (of 17) oversize cards; fine. #26364, $19.-
- 1979/1980 Souvenir Cover Polish National Everest Winter Expedition. w/ insert, 1 of 727, signed 3 members – Andrzej Zawada (leader), Leszek Cichy, & Krzysztof Wielicki, fine. #18392, $75.-
Zawada's speciality became winter ascents following his first winter ascent of a 7000m peak, Noshaq. This cover commemorates the first winter ascent of Everest with the summit reached by Cichy and Wielicki. Wielicki went on to become the fifth person to climb all 14 8000m peaks.
- 1980 Postcard Italian-Nepalese Everest Expedition. oblong card; signed Capt. Karki & 1 other, fine. #19385, $25.-
This large post-monsoon expedition of 52 members, including Kurt Diemberger, reached the South Summit.
- 1980 Postcard New Zealand Ama Dablam Expedition. signed 5 members – Graham Elder, Paddy Freaney, Bill King, Peter McInally, Bob Murie, fine. #20913, $25.-
This expedition included Russell Brice and Rob Hall. They climbed the North Ridge route and placed five members on the summit.
- 1982 Card First Soviet Everest Expedition. pre-stamped card w/ no photo; fine. #19388, $9.-
This Soviet Expedition was extremely successful placing 11 members on the summit via a new route on the SW Face.
- 1982 Postcard Canadian Everest Expedition. reproduction signatures of 18 members – Bill March (leader), John Amatt, Tim Auger, Rusty Baille, Stephen Bezruchka, James Blench, Dwayne Congdon, Jim Elzinga, Kurt Fuhrich, Lloyd Kiwi Gallagher, Roger Marshall, Dave McNabb, Pat Morrow, Bruce Patterson, Don Serl, Laurie Skreslet, Gordon Smith, & Peter B. Spear, fine. #20221, $29.-
The 1982 Canadian ascent placed six people on the summit including Pat Morrow. Note: This is a card with photocopied signatures of the entire team. This is one of four philatelic items I've seen from this expedition.
- 1983 Souvenir Cover Joint Services East Nepal Manaslu Expedition. w/ insert, #1359/4000; signed 4 members – Ted Atkins, Rod Fountain, Keith Hunter, Jamie Weyndling, fine. #26365, $25.-
This British expedition placed four climbers on the summit of Manaslu North via a new route.
- 1985 Postcard Yugoslav Yalung Kang/Kangchenjunga Expedition. signed 2 members – Pavle Kozjek, Damjan Meško, fine. #19460, $25.-
This expedition made the first ascent of Yalung Kang (8505m) from the north placing Tomo Èesen and one other member on the summit.
- 1985 First Day of Issue Mountain Peaks of Pakistan. fine. #26366, $9.-
This first day cover features two nice stamps of Nanga Parbat and Rakaposhi.
- 1990c Promotional Card Reinhold Messner. signed, fine. #26367, $15.-
- 1991 Souvenir Cover Balloon Over Everest Expedition. #10 envelope, signed 5 members – Peter Mason (leader), Chris Dewhirst, Leo Dickinson, Andy Elson, Eric Jones, bend on left edge, else fine. #18402, $39.-

- 1991 First Day Cover Lithuania Everest. unused, new. #19525, $9.-
- 1993 Postcard Alpamayo. signed Robert Eckhardt, fine. #26372, $15.-
Eckhardt is a Dutch climber, photographer, and author with numerous ascents to his credit in the Alps, Andes, Himalaya, Karakoram, and West Papua.
- 1994 Souvenir Cover Mexico Lhotse Expedition. w/ insert, signed Carlos Carsolio, fine. #18598, $29.-
This colorful cover commemorates Carsolio having reached the summit of Lhotse, his fifth of the Big Five 8000-meter peaks, and eighth overall. His other ascents to date were Nanga Parbat, Shishapangma, Makalu, Everest, Kangchenjunga, K2, and Cho Oyu. This is an important cover as Carsolio is the fourth person to have climbed all 14 8000ers, thus joining with the ranks of Messner, Kukuczka, Loretan, Wielicki, Oiarzabal and Martini. This cover includes a typed insert with a short bio of his career. This is one of about eight postal items I have seen for Carsolio's expeditions.
- 1999 Postcard International Mountain Guides Everest. oversize card, fine. #26373, $7.-
An oversized promotional card from IMG with the printed signatures of George Dunn, Phil Ershler, and Eric Simonson.

- 2000c Postcard Jamie Clarke. oversize card, inscribed by Clarke, fine. #26376, $15.-
Canadian Clarke had four trips to Everest (1991, 1994, 1997 summit, 2010 summit) as well as climbing the Seven Summits. In 1999 he spent 40 days crossing 620 miles of the Empty Quarter of Arabia, the first westerner to do so in 50 years.
- 2005 Souvenir Cover Golden Jubilee of the First Ascent of Mt Kanchanjunga. w/ insert, signed 5 – George Band, Joe Brown, Norman Hardie, Tony Streater, + 1 other, new. #26056, $145.-
One of a variety of commemorative items signed during the 50th anniversary celebration of the first ascent of Kanchenjunga.
- 2008 Commemorative Cover China Olympic Torch Relay. new. #26276, $15.-
This special commemorative cover was created for the lighting of the Olympic Torch on the summit of Everest. This is the second of at least two variants of covers created for this event and is slightly larger than our #26275.
- 2011 Commemorative Cover 4th International Everest Day. Ltd ed 200, w/ insert, signed ?, new. #26427, $25.-
A special cover created to celebrate Apa Sherpa's 21st ascent of Mount Everest on May 10th, 2011.
- 2012 Commemorative Cover (Everest) Hirotaka Takeuchi. signed, w/ insert, new. #26279, $49.-
This cover, celebrating the 5th International Mt. Everest Day, commemorates Takeuchi's completion of the 14 8000ers with his ascent of Dhaulagiri in 2012.
- Postcard Chamonix Mont-Blanc. signed Chris Bonington, fine. #26281, $19.-
An unused postcard of Mont Blanc signed by Bonington with the year 1961, when he made the first ascent of the Central Pillar of Freney, on the south side of Mont Blanc, with Don Whillans, Ian Clough and Jan Dlugosz.
- Postcard Alan Hinkes. preprinted signature, new. #26432, $19.-
A text-only card with, what appears to be, a pre-printed signature. Hinkes is the first British mountaineer to claim all 14 8000ers, although his ascent of Cho Oyu is disputed as weather may have obscured the true high point on the summit plateau.
- Color Postcard Broad Peak Fritz Winterstellar. unused, signed, fine. #26438, $95.-

Polar Regions

Account of the voyage of Amundsen's ship Gjøa which made the first complete passage through the Northwest Passage. Amundsen and his crew of six were frozen in for two winters off King William Island and spent the time undertaking sledge journeys to determine the location of the North Magnetic Pole. They then moved westward until again being frozen in near Herschel Island. Amundsen skied south for 500 miles in order to telegraph news of the expedition's progress and then returned back to the ship for the coming season. They subsequently sailed on and reached San Francisco six months after the great earthquake. An important work in Arctic exploration.

A wonderfully illustrated catalogue with items relating to all the principal Antarctic expeditions - Bellinghausen, Wedell, Webster, Dumont-d'Urville, Ross, Kristensen, de Gerlache, Borchgrevink, Nordenskjöld, Scott, Drygalski, Bruce, Charcot, Shackleton, Amundsen, Filchner, Mawson, Cope, Byrd, Christensen, and Ritscher, comprising 222 lots. Includes prices realized.

Anthony, Jason C. Hoosh: Roast Penguin, Scurvy Day, and Other Stories of Antarctic Cuisine. 2012 US, 1st, 8vo, pp.xvii, 286, 36 bw photos, drawing, 2 maps, appendices, wraps; new. #26265, $26.95

Antarctica, the last place on Earth, is not famous for its cuisine. Yet it is famous for stories of heroic expeditions in which hunger was the one spice everyone carried. At the dawn of Antarctic cuisine, cooks improvised under inconceivable hardships, castaways ate seal blubber and penguin breasts while fantasizing about illustrious feasts, and men seeking the South Pole stretched their rations to the breaking point. Today, Antarctica's kitchens still wait for provisions at the far end of the planet's longest supply chain. Scientific research stations serve up cafeteria fare that often offers more sustenance than style. Anthony, a veteran of eight seasons in the U.S. Antarctic Program, offers a rare workaday look at the importance of food in Antarctic history and culture.

Anthony's tour of Antarctic cuisine takes us from hoosh (a porridge of meat, fat, and melted snow, often thickened with crushed biscuit) and the scurvy-ridden expeditions of Shackleton and Scott through the twentieth century to his own preplanned three hundred meals (plus snacks) for a two-person camp in the Transantarctic Mountains. The stories in Hoosh are linked by the ingenuity, good humor, and indifference to gruel that make Anthony's tale as entertaining as it is enlightening.

Day, David. Antarctica: A Biography. 2013 US, 1st, thick 8vo, pp.ix, 614, 29 bw photos, map, map eps, dark blue/blue cloth; dj & cloth new. #26452, $34.95

In this absorbing work, Day describes in detail two centuries of exploration, scientific investigations, and contentious geopolitics. Drawing from archives around the world, he provides a sweeping history of this vast unconquered land and the dynamic figures that have been drawn to it,

Franklin, Capt. John. Narrative of a Journey to the Shores of the Polar Sea, in the Years 1819-20-21-22. 1824 John Murray, London, 2nd, 8vo, 2 vol, vI pp.xix, 370, fldg color map frontis, vII pp. 399, 3 fldg maps, marbled eps & edges, full calf w/ raised bands, gilt-tooled panels & gilt-lettered red/black title patches on spines; covers rebacked, edge wear to spines, armorial bookplates of Richard Gregory Esq. F.R.S., F.A.S., hinges tight, maps w/ no tears, vg. #26393, $595.-

Franklin's second expedition, his first in command, was the Coppermine Expedition of 1819-22. Its goal was the exploration of northern Canada, accessed via the Coppermine River. The small, poorly planned expedition lost 11 of 20 members but did map 550 miles of Arctic coastline east of the Coppermine. Ill equipped and trained, and continually facing starvation, they retreated across uncharted terrain eventually being rescued by natives. George Back and John Richardson, who both became Arctic explorers, were members of this expedition. AB 5194, Sabin 25624.

Norwegian Gjeldnes has made long-distance ski expeditions his forte. In 1996 he, along with fellow Norwegian Torre Larsen, completed an unsupported ski crossing of the Arctic Ocean, 109 days, 2,100 kilometers, thus becoming the first to cross the Arctic Ocean without resupply. In 2005-06, Gjeldnes completed "The Longest March", a three-month 4,800 kilometer solo ski trek across Antarctica, via the South Pole, becoming the first person to cross that continent alone and without being resupplied. This is a nice companion book to Rune's 'Dead Men Walking' and is very similar to Borge Ousland's books.

On a perfect day in March, 2009, with the temperature hovering near -40°F, Huston and Fish stepped off the North American continent and onto the frozen, jumbled surface of the Arctic Ocean. The two seasoned adventurers had their sights set on one goal: to travel under their own power to the North Pole without resupply. If they succeeded, they'd be the first Americans to do so. Over a period of nearly two months, Huston and Fish skied more than 500 miles, hauling sleds that contained everything they needed to survive. They maneuvered their 300-pound loads through punishing rubble fields and swam across stretches of open water. To fuel their bodies and fight back the cold, each consumed more than 7,000 calories per day, downing deep-fried bacon, chunks of butter, and fat-laden pemmican stew.

Richly illustrated with photos, maps, and charts, Forward takes readers across the ice and into the lives of both men, revealing how and why they attempted their unsupported trek to the Pole. The authors describe the details of their journey: the preparations, the daily routines, the personal struggles, and more. This fascinating narrative also interweaves the science of polar travel with the rich history of past explorers, men like Amundsen and Shackleton, who inspired Huston and Fish to push themselves to the limits of human endurance. A wonderfully presented book.

— Victorinox North Pole '09 Expedition Calendar. 12" wide x 24" high when opened, 34 color photos, map, 12 months; signed by Huston & Fish, fine. #26387, $25.-

This calendar, for 2010, commemorates the first unsupported, unassisted American expedition to reach the North Pole. Huston and Fish spent over two months skiing more than 500 miles and hauling 300-pound sleds to the pole. A nice calendar with color photos and plenty of space for notes.

Moseley, H. N. Notes of a Naturalist on the "Challenger," Being an Account of Various Observations Made During the Voyage of H.M.S. "Challenger" Round the World, in the Years 1872-1876, Under the Commands of Capt. Sir G. S. Nares, R.N., K.C.B., F.R.S., and Capt. F. T. Thomson, R.N. 1879 Macmillan, London, 1st, thick 8vo, pp.xvi, 620, color frontis w/ tissue guard, color plate, text illus, color fldg map, teg, brown cloth w/ gilt lettered spine; cloth rubbed on edges, light foxing, hinges starting, vg.

#26394, $550.-

The HMS Challenger spent 713 days at sea and sailed over 70,000 miles during her surveying and exploring expedition, discovering 4700 new species. The discoveries made lay the foundation for the field of oceanography. In 1874 the Challenger became the first steam vessel to cross the Antarctic continent. In 1875, Nares left the expedition to take command of the British Arctic Expedition

Nansen, Fridtjof. Farthest North: Being the Record of a Voyage of the Ship Fram 1893-96 and of a Fifteen Months' Sleigh Journey by Dr. Nansen and Lieut. Johansen with an Appendix by Otto Sverdrup Captain of the Fram. 1897 Harper, NY, 1st, 2 vol, thick 8vo, vI pp.xi, 587, frontis w/ tissue guard, 8 color plates w/ tissue guards, 94 illus, 4 color fldg maps in 2 pockets, vII pp.xi, 713, photo frontis w/ tissue guard, 8 color plates w/ tissue guards, 93 illus, appendices, teg, others uncut, orig gilt-dec brown cloth; vol I w/ light wear bottom spine, vol II pulled top spine, both vols tight, vg, maps w/ orig folds, no tears, fine.

#26450, $245.-

Narrative of the first Fram expedition led by Nansen with the object of investigating the polar basin north of Eurasia by drifting in the ice across the pole. A classic. AB 11983.

Ponting, Herbert G. The Great White South Prospectus. [1922] Duckworth, London, 8vo, pp.4, 2 bw photos, wraps; fine.

#26458, $39.-

— The Great White South Prospectus. [1923] Duckworth, London, 8vo, pp.4, 1 color photos, wraps; fine.

#26459, $39.-

The original prospectus for the cheap edition of Ponting's book 'The Great White South'. This 4-page prospectus provides press notes and an order form. A nice piece of ephemera to go with this classic book.

Roberts, David. Alone on the Ice: The Greatest Survival Story in the History of Exploration. 2013 US, 1st, 8vo, pp.368, 36 bw photos, plan, 2 maps, yellow/grey cloth; signed, dj & cloth new.

#26314, $27.95

On January 17, 1913, alone and near starvation, Douglas Mawson, leader of the Australasian Antarctic Expedition, was hauling a sledge to get back to base camp. The dogs were gone. Now Mawson himself plunged through a snow bridge, dangling over an abyss by the sledge harness. A line of poetry gave him the will to haul himself back to the surface.

Mawson was sometimes reduced to crawling, and one night he discovered that the soles of his feet had completely detached from the flesh beneath. On February 8, when he staggered back to base, his features unrecognizably skeletal, the first teammate to reach him blurted out, "Which one are you?"

This thrilling and almost unbelievable account establishes Mawson in his rightful place as one of the greatest polar explorers and expedition leaders. It is illustrated by a trove of Frank Hurley's famous Antarctic photographs, many never before published in the United States. Finalist 2013 Banff Mountain Book Festival Mountain & Wilderness Literature and Special Jury Mention.

This volume, written by Victoria Land Traverse team members, is a scientific, historical, and adventurous account of a four-month, 2400-km journey into the unexplored hinterland of East Antarctica. A critical link in the International Geophysical Year/U.S. Antarctic Research Program, the traverse team conducted seismic, gravity, magnetic, geological, glaciological, and atmospheric surveys over the continental ice sheet, discovering the Wilkes Subglacial Basin, the Wilkes Land Gravity Anomaly, the Outback Nunataks, the USARP Mountain Range, and the upper reaches of the Rennick Glacier. In so doing, the traverse encountered heavy crevassing on the Skelton Glacier, where SnoCats frequently broke through snow bridges, threatening the end of the traverse. On the high plateau, fuel shortages and frequent equipment failures also threatened to terminate the journey. The latter portions of the traverse were marked by near catastrophes in the vicinity of the Mertz and Ninnis Glaciers, and on the glaciers of the Transantarctic Mountains, where unknown and initially undetected substantial crevasse fields were encountered. This account has been constructed a half-century later from the traverse team's scientific field notes and personal journals.
